

Motivation in the Workplace

What makes you tick and what ticks you off

What makes people tick has perplexed organizations for a very long time.

Yet the organizations that “get it” find higher performance, lower turn-over, higher customer satisfaction, higher customer loyalty, higher employee loyalty, more positive work environment, less chaos management, all having a significant positive effect on the organizations bottom line.

Struggling organizations are found to apply a simplistic approach to motivation or “throw in the towel” because its just too complicated!

Using the Chadons designed TLS model of motivation, we -

- Show what makes people tick
- Explain why its not a one size fit all proposition
- Facilitate how taking the right, very do-able steps can make significant changes in employee motivation.
- Detail exactly where the responsibility of motivation is located
- As well as what behaviors can bring out the very best in their people
- What organizations need to do to provide an environment for positive motivation

This innovative presentation can be geared towards

- C-Level Management
- Mid-Level Leadership/Supervisors
- And even the Employee Level.

All designed to move and motivate to a higher level of success.

Motivation in the Workplace

This outstanding topic can be presented as a -

Terry Talk - Which is a 1 to 1 1/2 hour presentation. Terry Talks are well known for their engagement, humor, interaction and way of presenting a new and highly relatable viewpoint to gain greater understanding of today's business challenges.

Chadons Workshop - Which is a 3 to 7 hour session. Chadons Workshops are designed to highly engage the participant, create those "aha" moments even in topics that may have been covered before, creating an opportunity for the listener to take back real world solutions improving their business skills and the organizations bottom line.

About Terry Bass

Terry left the corporate world in 2005 as National Training Manager of a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak and formed CHADONS Resources. As a business coach located in the Chicagoland area, he helps people and organizations of all sizes succeed.

Terry coaches, facilitates and provides important skill development workshops and training over a range of areas. Whether coaching, speaking or training, Terry drives real world sensibilities in a fun, dynamic, thought provoking way.

Terry's quirky logo below represents his view that everyone has ideas, dreams and visions of where they would like to end up. He views his purpose is to support them in reaching that vision.

For more information, including additional topics that Terry speaks and provides workshops on, you can go to www.chadons.com
To contact CHADONS, call 773-769-1992 or email at terry@chadons.com

